FROM THE EDITOR...

Last month, I wrote looking forward to the Her Majesty's Platinum Jubilee Celebrations, and now they are all over. Straight back into air traffic chaos, Tube strikes, political unrest and, to cap it all, I've had to sign up with the dentist for some unpleasant treatment! Of course, the four-day bank holiday was a welcome retreat from the cares of the world, and the light thrown up by our unique ability to throw a good party shows up in sharp relief the miseries that we also make for ourselves (or are made for us). It also showed how Britain is populated with some great organisers both local and national and a population full of goodwill and joyful hearts. So where are they the rest of the year?

YOURS TRULY IN USUAL POSE

I was speaking to an American on Sunday who resides in Seattle but was over here for a few months on a study course. I asked him what he thought of all our concentrated celebrations, and he shook his head and said he just didn't get it. Well, they only have presidents; and would you throw a big party for Biden or Trump, or Nixon? They don't get it because they don't have it. He said it was all the fault of George III and his attitude. But, tax, that's what it was, everything comes down to money in the end.

I have to say a word of congratulation in all those involved in the creation and execution of these events both in London and in our beloved Sunninghill and South Ascot. The party in Victory Field on Thursday was brilliant and was noisily peaceful, with hundreds and hundreds enjoying the off and on sunshine, the bands and the sideshows. The lighting of the beacon was spectacular and expertly choreographed. Well done everyone!

St Michael's Church was not only involved in that with a cake stall and in helping to light the beacon; but managed to organise a concert at Church on the following day with some highly talented local musicians and an audience that could take on the chorus at Covent Garden! With a Last Night of the Proms style of finish complete with waving flags, it's been a long time since I experienced such an enthusiastic congregation in that hallowed space! It's a wonder that the roof is still intact! Let's hope for more of it.

If only we could all approach normal life with such enthusiasm and joyful giving of ourselves with such commitment. I sadly missed the party on the green at South Ascot on Sunday, but imagine that it was a great and joyful occasion too. They are so hospitable in that neck of the woods!

So, what do we have to look forward to now? I suppose there is the World Cup final just before Christmas, especially now that Wales are in it, and then there is the next Coronation, but that may still be a way off yet, we pray. Whatever it is, I don't think it'll be anything like the scale of what we have just experienced. But we are British, aren't we? Even if we aren't we are still part of that great family of man (well, most of us are) and do we need an excuse to party? I don't think so.

THE MINISTER'S MESSAGE

LIFTING OUR SPIRITS THIS SUMMER

For some of us the very fact that it's summer and we get a bit of sun (even if we have to go abroad for it!) will lift our spirits. For others, depending on what we are facing in our lives, it might take a little more than summer weather to lift us up.

What lifts us up? And what drags us down? How we can be lifted up despite the things that drag us down?

Driving along Drift Road recently, a red kite suddenly crossed in front of my car having just swooped down to capture its prey. It was gaining height but the weight of its prey meant it didn't have enough lift to clear the bonnet in time and it took a glancing blow. Fortunately it managed to keep flying.

Walking the Long Walk towards Windsor during the Jubilee celebrations we watched planes crossing the sky and mused on the incredible fact that something as weighty as an Airbus 380 can be lifted up into the sky despite the heaviness that drags it back to earth.

I took a brief refresher course from my resident physicist on some elementaries of the science of flight. Wings produce lift because their upside has a greater surface area than their downside.

If our upward focus exceeds our downward, we can find our spirits lifted up despite the weight of the worries and cares of our lives that might drag us down.

*I lift up my eyes to the mountains—where does my help come from?
My help comes from the Lord,
the Maker of heaven and earth. (Psalm 121:1-2)*

Just suppose we open ourselves up to the love of God whose creative design work includes wings with their amazing power to lift, could we not imagine God lifting us up in the midst of heaviness?

*Those who hope in the Lord will renew their strength.
They will soar on wings like eagles;
they will run and not grow weary,
they will walk and not be faint. (Isaiah 40:31)*

The Christian faith finds this hope to be a living hope revealed in Jesus. For a quick summer read (ideal for a plane trip or for the poolside) try out the gospel of Mark and discover Jesus, the living hope who can lift our spirits this summer. Read online or pick up one of 10 free copies from St Michael's Church Sunninghill.

Whatever you may be dealing with at the moment I hope and pray that you will find your spirits lifted this summer.

With love and prayers,

Sarah

PLATINUM PARTY IN THE PARK

A fantastic evening of fun and entertainment was enjoyed by thousands who attended our Platinum Jubilee Party in the Park at Victory Field, Sunninghill, on 2nd June. The Evert Outen band were first on the stage at 4.30 and people brought picnics or bought food from the variety of stalls around the park while listening to the music. There were fairground rides for the children to enjoy and beer and Pims for the grown-ups. Other bands providing the entertainment were Groove Company and Groove Republic, all of whom performed throughout the evening until the big event – the lighting of the official Jubilee Beacon at 9:45pm.

Seven ambassadors, representing the seven decades of the Queen's reign, had been nominated for their work in the community and became torch bearers to light the beacon. Following the beacon lighting Spotlights Musical Theatre group led the patriotic singing to finish the event. The parish council extends its thanks to all the volunteers who came along to help us make this.

A VIEW FROM THE GARDEN

I hope you all enjoyed the Platinum Jubilee, what a wonderful occasion to celebrate our Queen's service to this country and the commonwealth. I did plant up my garden with red, white and blue, but it's probably looking a little better a month after the Jubilee, the plants were a little small to get out earlier. Other colours though have sneaked into my front garden. One of my favourite flowers is the poppy. This is Papaver somniferum, commonly known as the opium poppy or bread seed poppy. When I took this photo there were a couple of little bees bumping into each other and rolling in the stamens collecting pollen, their gentle hum as they busied about their work bought a smile. Opium, morphine, codeine and heroin are all derived from the milky latex found in its unripe seed capsule. It's also grown for its tiny ripe seeds which are used in bakery products and for seasoning oil and birdseed. It's very easy to grow, just turn the soil and sprinkle in the seeds and up they pop, the most common colour is this purple, but I occasionally get a lovely shade of pink! I also planted some lupins in my front garden last year, and some managed to survive, I watered in some nematodes to control slugs and snails back in the spring and have just given it another treatment. Nematodes are a natural parasite which eat slugs and snails are environmentally friendly and don't harm wildlife. Lupins like the sun, so can be placed in a warm position in well drained or even poor soil. Most are perennials so die down in winter and re-sprout in spring. A good plant for the middle of the border. Cut down the spent flower spikes to the base to encourage more to grow. All parts of lupins are poisonous so wear gloves when handling them.

Inspired by my mum who also loved clematis, I've realised I also grow quite a few! She loved blue flowers and there seem to be a lot of varieties with blue flowers. I have an arch in my garden which Marjorie is growing over, I wrote about her last year. I had over the years planted other clematis which had died back. During the storms the wind brought my archway down and it buckled so I had to buy a new one and was very apprehensive about untangling my clematis and whether it would survive, as you can see no harm came, but in disturbing the soil I seem to have woken up another clematis. I've long ago lost the plant label and having tried to research it cannot find it, but I had to include the photo of this beautiful pale lilac flower with the darker stripe down the petals, the flowers are so delicate and look like tissue paper. The other I believe is called snowdrift and that is growing over a gazebo.

I planted a small Philadelphus also known as mock orange in a planter close to an outside eating area a few years ago. It has an intoxicating orange blossom fragrance and pretty white flowers. Philadelphus come in all shapes and sizes so there will be one to suit your garden. They are very resilient shrubs and require very little attention. Annual pruning helps to promote flowering which should be done immediately after blooming, cutting back shoots that have flowered or just above a new shoot lower down.

CLEMATIS FRECKLES AND SNOWDRIFT

PAPAVER SOMNIFERUM

LUPIN

I continue to harvest radish and cut and come again lettuce. The broad beans are forming, and I think we may end up with a glut of courgettes. I planted them out late as our weather has been so erratic, but they are all looking very healthy. The runner beans have had a slow start and I had to replant as slugs has eaten some, more nematodes were ordered and quickly applied! Now it's just a case of keeping on top of the weeds so they don't compete with my vegetables. The chives have been in flower, the flowers make a nice and very pretty addition to your summer salads with a very mild onion flavour. Have a lovely summer!

NEWS FROM THE BEAT

IN AN EMERGENCY
DIAL 999

I have received loads of emails re speeding in local roads and how local residents, can deal with that issue.

The answer is to get together in your road and set up a Community SpeedWatch. We unfortunately are no longer involved in this initiative and this has just been put out by the PCC:

COMMUNITY SPEEDWATCH SCHEME

The Community SpeedWatch scheme is set to provide communities with equipment and training to monitor speeding in their area. Thanks to a new partnership with Community SpeedWatch UK, a not-for-profit social enterprise that provides support for SpeedWatch schemes.

Organised by the Office of the Police & Crime Commissioner, SpeedWatch groups will be provided with a starter kit on a loan basis, including a speed detection device, to help volunteers to assist in the battle against speeding motorists. Before community teams can be deployed to the roadside, they will undergo a number of training sessions online. Risk assessments will be completed by police to ensure safety at the roadside.

The new online platform allows group-related activities to be self-regulated via an online calendar and also provides vehicle make recognition training. DVLA pre-checks logged registration numbers for authenticity before automatically passing data on to the police for further processing. Existing Community SpeedWatch groups will be contact directly about restarting activity once coronavirus restrictions allow.

CRIME IN NORTH ASCOT

Monday 5 June, 3:52 am, Kennel Ride. 'Vamoose' Burglary (burglary to get the car keys to steal a car). The owner was awoken by noises and could see torchlight inside the house and shouted. They snatched the car keys and ran out taking the car from the drive. The aggrieved called the police and started to track the car. The last tracking was on the M4 travelling east. The tracker was then disabled. A black BMW 340i. It is believed they removed the house keys from a key safe, which was removed from the wall. The index plates were removed from the car and replaced with a fake set from a grey Ford Fiesta, which was visible on our ANPR cameras. Ref. No: 43220245685

Please consider using our online reporting system but please note this reporting tool is not for use where a crime happening right now, the suspect is still at the scene, or anyone seriously injured or in immediate danger.

POETRY CORNER

By the time this is published, we will have celebrated the Jubilee, survived Ascot week, and indeed perhaps managed to get away for a holiday, queues at the airport permitting. For me this summer has meant freedom. I was unfortunately ill for most of 2020 and have since spent two long years and a bit confined to the four walls of my flat. Four weeks ago, I received my wheelchair, and at the first opportunity went into the garden on a beautiful summer's day - it was amazing. Just the simple things, fresh air, nature blooming and flourishing, bird song, bees buzzing, truly glorious and so very welcome. Back in the thirteenth century, this rhyme was written in Middle English, celebrating summer for more practical reasons, mainly a good crop to provide food:

*Sumer is i - cumen in, Loude sing cuckow,
Groweth seed and bloweth meed,
And spyneeth the wode now, Sing cuckow.*

It is still sung today, often as a round, and traditionally sung from the tower of Magdalen College, Oxford at dawn on May Day.

The first four lines of this quote from Shakespeare's Midsummer Night's Dream describes the flora of our countryside in summer:

*I know a bank where the wild thyme blows,
Where oxlips and the nodding violet grows,
Quite over - canopied with luscious
woodbine,
With sweet musk - roses and with eglantine.*

John Updike (1932-2009), an American author mainly known for his adult novels. This poem is taken from a collection he wrote for children:

*June:
The sun is rich And gladly pays In golden hours Silver days.
And long green weeks That never end.
Schools out The time is ours to spend.
There's Little League, Hopscotch, The creek,
And after supper Hide and Seek.
The live - long light Is like a dream, And freckles come Like flies to cream.*

William Blake an English writer, usually of more serious subjects wrote these lines from his collection Songs of Innocence.

*When the green woods laugh with the voice of joy,
And the dimpling stream runs laughing by,
When the air does laugh with our merry note,
And the green Hill laughs with the noise of it,
When the meadows laugh with lively green,
And the grasshopper laughs in the merry scene.*

To end, words written by, Sir John Betjeman, who perhaps more than any other poet describes the simple pleasure of summer days by the sea:

*From Trebetherick:
Sand in the sandwiches, wasps in the tea,
Sun on our bathing dresses heavy with
the wet,
Squelch of the Bladder wrack waiting for the sea,
Fleas round the tamarisk, an early cigarette.*

From Seaside Golf:

*Ah seaweed smells from sandy caves,
And thyme and mist in whiffs,
Incoming tide, Atlantic waves,
Slapping the sunny cliffs.
Lark song and sea sounds in the air,
And splendour, splendour, everywhere.
And finally, from A Bay in Anglesey.
The sleepy sound of a tea-time tide,
Slaps at the rocks the sun has dried.
Too lazy almost to sink and lift
Round low peninsula pink with thrift.*

And ending,

*Multiple lark song, whispering Bents,
The thymy turfy and salty scents,
And filling in, brimming in, sparkling
and free,
The sweet susurrantion of in coming sea.*

Enjoy the summer, Autumn comes all too soon. But in your enjoyment, focus on the simple things the summer brings, as I did on that first day of freedom.

Aside from our Legoland sleepover covered in the last issue our Beavers and Cubs have had a busy couple of months.

We started the Term with a visit to both our Beavers and Cubs sections from our local Police officers, police car, siren and all...sorry neighbours! The children learnt lots from the visit and also had their finger prints taken.

The Beavers section went out Pond Dipping in Swinley Forest combining it with a Star Wars "May the 4th" (ish) hike. We then finished off our Communicator badge and a camp fire with Polish sausages (thanks Michal and Leo) and Smores. We then ran a session cleaning up the park and forest in South Ascot as part of our Community badge – they all worked really hard and were rewarded with chips!

The Cubs worked on their Gardening badge, sprucing up the beds and planting some sunflowers at the hut. They had a visit from a Fencing instructor (think Foil and Saber rather than picket and kickboard), pleased to report there were no injuries.

Feathers and Fur Falconry from Moss End also joined them for an evening of flying fun with hawks and owls taking over the hut!

Two of our Beavers managed to gain their Bronze Award this Term – well done Lena and Tom and in Cubs Toby Jones gained his Silver Award – the highest awards achievable in each section.

We will be holding a Charity Golf day in conjunction with 1st Sunningdale on the 30th of September at Sunningdale Heath – should you like some further information then please contact golf_day@sunningdale

CHEAPSIDE C of E PRIMARY SCHOOL

It has been such a joy to have so many activities taking place both in and out of school over the last half term; the restrictions on school life that Covid forced on us finally feel well and truly a thing of the past.

We were absolutely delighted to invite the Executive Chef and Head Chef of Pastry from Coworth Park to the school to judge our Jubilee-themed cake and biscuit competition. The children in Key Stage 1 were invited to decorate biscuits and in Key Stage 2 they were invited to design and then bake a cake fit for a queen. The chefs took into account not just the appearance of the cakes but also tasted all 36 entries. The results were phenomenal and the winner will be going to spend time in the kitchen at Coworth Park to recreate their cake! We would like to say a big thank you to Coworth Park for their support with this exciting Jubilee competition, and a big congratulations to the winners and runners-up in both events, as well as 'well done' to all the children who participated.

A group of children representing Years 1 to 6 had a taste of life in television as part of ITN's run-up to the Jubilee. Sir Michael Morpurgo was interviewed in Windsor Great Park by ITN's Geraint Vincent and the Cheapside children had the pleasure of Sir Michael reading his latest book to them, Once There is a Queen, beneath an oak tree. A few of the children were then interviewed themselves: they were asked their views about both the book and the Queen. They had a lovely time and very much enjoyed having the opportunity to meet such an esteemed children's author.

To top off our Jubilee celebrations, the whole school went out onto the field to have a picnic and enjoy some traditional songs and games on the afternoon of the last day of the half term. Year 3 wowed the school by dancing '50s style' to Rock Around the Clock and everyone then enjoyed themselves by participating in songs such as the 'Hokey Cokey' and 'In and Out of the Dusty Bluebells'. The sun shone and a great time was had by all!

THE ARTS SOCIETY ASCOT

JULY LECTURE
TUESDAY 5th JULY at 10:30am
Coffee from 9:50am

AT ST MICHAEL AND ALL ANGELS' CHURCH,
CHURCH LANE, SUNNINGHILL, SL5 7DD

THE ART & ARCHITECTURE OF IMPERIAL VIENNA

Dr Nicholas Watkins B.A. Hons., M.Phil., Ph.D

Vienna, that great border fortress on the Danube, is inseparably linked with the fate of the Habsburg dynasty, hereditary Arch Dukes of Austria and elected Holy Roman Emperors. The lecture begins with the rise to power of the Habsburg family and the formation of their collections. The lifting of the siege of Vienna in 1683 by the Ottoman army allowed the construction of a new imperial city with its magnificent Baroque palaces, churches and civic buildings.

Following the invasion of Napoleon and his abolition of the Holy Roman Empire, the Habsburg dynasty reinvented itself as Emperors of the Austro-Hungarian Empire. The massive city walls were demolished and Vienna emerged as a modern city. Otto Wagner pioneered a new form of modern architecture and the modernist Secession movement promoted the highly disturbing paintings of Gustave Klimt, Egon Schiele and Oscar Kokoschka. All this came to an end in the catastrophe of the First World War and the destruction of the Austro-Hungarian Empire..

Dr Watkins Studied in Florence, Vienna and at the Courtauld Institute of Art. An art historian, author, critic, exhibition curator, lecturer, his numerous publications include Matisse (1984); Bonnard (1994); Bonnard Colour and Light (Tate Gallery and Museum of Modern Art, New York, 1998); 'The Genesis of a Decorative Aesthetic' in Beyond the Easel: Decorative Painting by Bonnard, Vuillard, Denis and Roussel, 1890-1930 (The Art Institute of Chicago and The Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, 2001); Behind the Mirror, Aimé Maeght and his Artists, Bonnard, Matisse, Miró, Calder, Giacometti, Braque (Royal Academy of Arts 2008-9); 'Bonnard et l'art décoratif' in Bonnard Peindre L'Arcadie (Musée d'Orsay, Paris 2015, Madrid 2016, San Francisco 2016); 'The making of Matisse', RA Magazine Summer 2017; 'Bonnard's use of colour', RA Magazine Winter 2018; 'Gauguin returns from Tahiti', RA Magazine Autumn 2019. 'Christopher Le Brun painter sculptor', Sculpture Journal, Summer 2012. Television, BBC film, Pierre Bonnard: A Love Exposed, Omnibus, 17 February, 1998. He is a regular contributor to The Burlington Magazine and other leading art journal and lectures extensively to universities, museums, galleries, National Gallery and Royal Academy.
